INTRODUCTION

Thegovernment has to live and perform its duties to the native as a result theremust be a means of live hood called money.

Therefore, the simple meaning of accounting is an act of recording, classifying, summarizing and interpreting of financial records. It has always been said that money is the life wire of any state. That is accounting is prominent to the survivor of any Native, the government system is to enable power or delegate the power to the rule from rule and there is a three arms of government i.e the legislature, judiciary and executive of a government system and whereas we have three types of government in any nation i.e federal government which is president, vice president and all ministers and secretary to the federal government, state government in this we have the executive governor of the state, the vice governor, the secretary to the state governor and all commissioners we still have local government chairman, vice chairman and secretary.

STATEMENT OF THE PROBLEM

It is obvious that inadequate revenue has been one of the problems of the government in discharging its function smoothly. It is justifiable that most of the government have not proved to be quite successful in discharging their function effectively and efficiently.

Also, the poor attitude toward the payment of tax which is one of the large sources of revenue from the payers also contributed negatively to the government generates revenue.

The government establishment also affected the revenue of generated either directly or indirectly recently.

How does government establishment or accounting system affect the revenue generation?

What role the government plays on accounting system.
